Friday, May 2. 1707.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated May 3.

Mantua, April 19.

SOME Days ago the following Articles were, in the Name of this City, presented to Prince Eugene, supreme Commander of his Catholick Majesty's Arms in Italy, by the Maquiffes Otavio Cauriani, Cesar Guerrieri, and Odoardo Valenti: The Prince's Answer is annex'd to each Article.

I. The favourable Intercession of his most serene Highness is implor'd, for procuring his Imperial Majesty's Clemency to this City, and Security of the Lives, Estates and Effects, whether moveable or otherwise, of all the Nobility, Burghers, Merchants, Tradesmen, and Jews.

Answer. So far as the City and State of Mantua shall shew Fidelity and Zeal for his Imperial Majesty (as 'tis not doubted they will,) they shall be assisted and protected; and may rest assur'd of it.

II. There being within the Verge of the Court above 300 Families that have their Habitations there, and pay Rent for the same; 'tis desir'd that Regard may be had to them, and that they may be maintain'd in their Goods and Persons, as the other Families.

Granted, provided they behave themselves as is above-mention'd.

III. His Highness is desir'd to send Commissaries to regulate the Quarters and other things concerning the Troops of his Catholick Majesty, to the End all Confusion and Disorder may be prevented; and to signify the Number of Soldiers that are to enter the City.

Commissaries are already sent, and by this Time arriv'd, with necessary Order for every thing that is to be observ'd; which may be learnt from them themselves.

IV. Many Persons being actually in the Service of the most serene Duke and Dutches of Mantua; and several of them being like to return, Security is desir'd for their Persons and Goods.

They shall have Security for their Persons and Goods, when they shall quit the Service, &c.

V. His Highness is desir'd, to prescribe what shall be done by the Nobility and Burghers when the Troops enter.

Let them send two Deputies to meet the Troops, and let the Burghers keep within their Houses.

VI. His Highness is besought to intimate where he would be lodg'd when he comes to the City; as also where the Commandant Major who shall be plac'd in it by his Order, shall be lodg'd.

When I come to the City, I will signify where I will take up my Lodging. And as for the Officer who shall Command in it, he shall have his Quarter in the same Place where the French Commander had his.

VII. In Case his Highness when he comes to Mantua, shall take up his Lodging in the Court, he is desir'd that the Moveables of the most serene Duke of Mantua may be safe.

Answer'd as above; and as for the Moveables of the most serene Duke of Mantua, he may withdraw them all, according to the Agreement made with the French.

VIII. There being 4 Companies of Italian Soldiers in the Pay of the most serene Duke of Mantua, his Highness' Pleasure concerning them is desir'd.

Let them all four be disbanded.

IX. The continual Calamities which this Country has undergone during the Course of this War, are refer'd to the prudent Consideration of his most serene Highness; and thereupon the Clemency and Generosity inherent in his great Soul are implor'd.

This Representation shall be consider'd, and all possible Lenity shall be us'd in the laying of Impositions on the Country; no Doubt being made, that the Inhabitants will be carefull to comply in every thing with that Readyness and Fidelity they ought.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated May 3.

Wolfenbuttel, April 23. The Count de Paar, great Master of the Kitchen to the Emperour, and the Countess of Ringsmaul, having left at Erfurt Part of their Retinue and of their Train of Coaches, arriv'd here some Days ago, to receive the most serene Princess Elizabeth Christina of Brunswick and Lunenburg, who is the declar'd Bride of King Charles III. of Spain, and conduct her to Vienna to the Empress her near Relation. The 19th of this Month they went from this City, with great Magnificence, a triple Salvo being made by the Cannon on the Ramparts: The following Order was observ'd in their March.
